

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

July 8, 2009

Acella Construction announces new LEED AP

NORWELL, Mass.—Acella Construction Corporation today announced that Saul Schrader, Project Manager, has passed the LEED certification examination and has become a LEED AP (Accredited Professional.)

Schrader joined Acella in 2004, and has been working on projects for clients such as Riverview School, Northeastern University and the Provincetown Art Association & Museum. He began his career with Lee Kennedy Company in Boston, and holds a Bachelors degree in Construction Management from Wentworth Institute of Technology.

“We’re proud of Saul’s dedication towards becoming a LEED AP. His commitment to this has enabled Acella to continue to move towards becoming one of New England’s premier Green Builders,” said David Dirubbo, President of Acella Construction.

About Acella Construction Corporation

Acella Construction Corporation, located in Norwell, Mass., is a construction services firm specializing in construction management, general contracting, design-build, pre-construction and program management services for a wide-range of markets. For more information, please visit www.acellaconstruction.com.